

Movies, Comics, Refreshments Are Theme of Rosenberg Fresco at Roosevelt High

Above is Nelson C. Rosenberg's fresco, "Adolescent America," which he has painted in the cafeteria of Roosevelt High School. In his effort to get the spirit of present-day America into his work, Rosenberg included Jimmie Durante, Mickey Mouse, cowboy, funny papers, daring young man on flying trapeze, boxers, peanuts, soda pop, chewing gum, ice cream cones, pop corn, hot dogs, politics, Rudy Vallee, fireworks and the "happy ending" of the movies. The painting was started with PWA money and finished at the artist's expense.
